BERLIN. Oct. 21.—Great Britain has proposed that all the powers recognize the Republic of Portugal at the same time. Germany today replied approving the suggestion.

WASHINGTON WILL WAIT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON. Oct. 21.—No proposal from Great Britain that all powers recognize the Republic of Portugal simultaneously has reached the State Department. Officials of the department said today that the United States probably would take no action until a constitutional government had been established.

killed against doing any more picket duty. The union refuses to pay these rebels who refuse to break the law. Some of them are nearly destitute.

The union leaders have resorted to all sorts of silly tricks to keep the strikers in a state of mind.

The day that Mrs. Levin was brought down here, they scattered a number of old newspapers around the labor union hall for the sake of the headline which read: "Bomb theory has failed."

Jim Lynch, head of the Typographical Union, is here for a personally conducted campaign to unionize The Times. He appeared on Tuesday and let the impression go out that he had simply dropped off between trains en route to San Francisco; at last account he was still here.

He is the first emissary of the big bank of the national mint, the directors of the Jose Lima, recently committed suicide.

Father Mattox, the Jesuit editor of anti-republican newspaper who was believed to have been killed, is alive and unharmed according to an announcement made yesterday.

New adhesions to the republicans are reported. Many wealthy citizens are contributing to the liquidation of the Government employees, soldiers and sailors are offering to donate a part of their wages for the same purpose.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
ROME, Oct. 21.—According to the observatory Romano, the Vatican organ, Pope Pius has been called to Rome in order that he may confer with Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, on the religious situation in Portugal.

COMPLICATIONS.

PROTESTS WILL OF MEMPHIAN.WOMAN GAYS SHE IS SOLE HEIR TO FORTUNE.

Claiming to be Daughter of Eccentric, She Files Suit in Chancery Asking Court to Set Aside Gifts to Nurse Who Saved Her From Pink Monkey and Others.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
MEMPHIS ( Tenn.), Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hardly had the will been read of Mrs. Hallie, foster son of Mrs. Joanna Mardon, the eccentric woman who died leaving an estate of $300,000, hidden in her household, when Mrs. Anna Laura Morgridge, followed with a suit in chancery seeking to restrain the disposition of the entire estate.

The bill filed today sets forth the claim that Mrs. Morgridge is the sole heir of the estate of J. W. Madden, husband of the eccentric woman, who died several months ago leaving the entire fortune to the foster-son, E. J. Hallie. She says she is the daughter of Mr. Madden by a former wife.

Hallie died Tuesday night during an attack of delirium tremens. This followed an almost constant celebration, it is said, which started with a tour of Europe, which was followed by a hasty return to Memphis.

According to the complaint filed today, Hallie left his entire estate to friends and attendants, some of whom he had never known. To the nurse who kindly removed a pink monkey from the foot of his bed, in the midst of his suffering, he bequeathed $500, according to the allegations made in the contest by Mrs. Morgridge.

To the cook who removed snakes from his house, he left $100. To the maid who left him $500, "is another allegation which is one of many similar incidents charged to show that there is just cause to prevent the distribution of the estate, all of which was left to close friends, including favorite baseball players, deputy sheriffs and school masters, in addition to orphan asylums.

SECRET IN BATCHEL.

SHIPPED BY FITZGERALD.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HANFORD, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Authorities here are still reticent regarding the arrest of Morris Fitzgerald, who was questioned in Los Angeles yesterday by agents investigating the Times' explosion.

An old switch, sent by express by Fitzgerald to San Luis Obispo from Bakersfield the day before he was found unconscious in the railroad yards here, was received here this afternoon consigned to Stewart D. W. Moore of the Kings County Hospital where Fitzgerald was a patient.

The switch was tightly packed and the sides were bulged. Moore refused to reveal the contents, evidently under instructions either from the local police or the Los Angeles authorities.

It was said here today that Fitzgerald had some in his delirium of Bishop Coloroso, author of the dynamiting outrage at Cripple Creek several years ago in the American Federation of Miners' big strike, of which organization he was a member. A switch card found on him. This was confirmed by several members of Industrial Workers of the World called on him during illness.

City Marshal Frederick is believed to be in Los Angeles with Fitzgerald. His wife, Rev. Franklin W. Church, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Cleveland, O., has accepted a call to St. Peter's Episcopal church in the city. He was formerly rector of the Los Angeles Diocese and from there went to Auburn, N. Y. For the past two years he has been rector of the Cleveland church.

EDGAR ALLAN POE GETS PLACE IN AMERICAN HALL OF FAME.

Years of Effort of Staunch Supporters Rewarded by Election of Poet—Harriet Beecher Stowe Leads List of Eleven by Remarkable Vote—Frances E. Willard's Name Also Enrolled—Interesting Analysis of Ballots Cast by Arbitors of Undying Greatness.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

N Y C, Oct. 21.—Edgar Allan Poe is at last in the Hall of Fame. Years of effort on the part of staunch supporters were rewarded today by the announcement of Dr. John H. McCracken, chairman of the Senate of New York University, that Poe, with ten others, had been accorded this honor.

The eleven names added follow: Harriet Beecher Stowe, 74 votes; Oliver Wendell Holmes and Edgar Allan Poe, 62 votes; Roger Williams, 61 votes; James Fenimore Cooper, 60 votes; Phillips Brooks, 60 votes; William Culver Bryant, 59 votes; Frances E. Willard, 56 votes; Andrew Jackson and George Bancroft, 55 each; and John Lothrop Motley, 54 votes.

The eleven names of ballot cast was 57, and the number required for choice was 51. Poe's vote jumped from 42 in 1905 to 69, an increase of 27 votes. An analysis of the vote shows that of the 69 votes, 21 were cast by college presidents; 17 by professors of history and scientists, 15 by publicists, editors and authors, and 13 by jurists.

Contrary to the general impression, the memory of the poet in fame is the most vivid and most accurate to the voter. Since the last election his fame has increased among the college presidents more than among any of the other groups.

The vote of 74 for Harriet Beecher Stowe is noteworthy, as the only one who received such a majority in the election of 1905 was Louis Agassiz, and in the first election, however, was surpassed by only fourteen names, including Washington, Lincoln, Grant and Emerson.

Oliver Wendell Holmes gained twenty votes, while the compilers, Lowell and Whittier, having been removed by election.

Those falling of election by ten votes or less were: Philip Cooke, 48; Patrick Cummins, 46; Hopkins, 46; Patrick Henry, 44; Martha Washington, 43; Daniel Boone, 42; Samuel Adams and Lucretia Mott, 41 each.

TRIO MISSING.

THREE RACING BALLOONS NOT YET ACCOUNTED FOR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

S T. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Relief expeditions to search for the pilot and sides of the three racing balloons, Augustus, Endurance II, and America II, which started in the international race here Monday, will be started from Toronto Sunday if no news is received from the aeronauts before that time. This announcement was made tonight by officials of the Aero Club of St. Louis.

The German balloon, Georgiana, Captain, was last seen at 10:30 a. m. and Augustus, Captain, and Augustus Blanckensee, side, landed at Cocosnacash, Quebec, 29 miles north of Quebec Wednesday morning. The distance traveled was 110 miles. It is certain, and it is said, that all world record competition have been eclipsed.

The Aero Club tonight called upon the Germania will leave the nearest point of transition, for Montreal tomorrow. The situation in reference to the unreported balloons assumed a most serious aspect tonight. It is believed here that the men have landed somewhere in the wilds of Canada, where they may succumb to starvation before aid can reach them.

The Aero Club tonight called upon Gen. James Allen, chief of the United States signal corps at Washington, to have the revenue cutters patrolling the Lake Ontario and Lake Huron. Steamer companies which have vessels plying Lake Huron and Georgian Bay have been requested to join in the search.

The Ontario government, through its Lieutenant-Governor, J. M. Gibson, recently notified the club it would assist in the search for the missing men. The Canadian government also has responded favorably to a request for assistance.

It was announced tonight that a representative of the Aero club would be sent to Toronto to organize relief ex-positions.

LARGE THEFT CHARGED.

Man Arrested on Felony Complaint of Manager of Local Printers' Supply Company.

W. B. Straube, a printer, was arrested yesterday afternoon on complaint of Roy O. Shadiner, manager of the American Type Founders' Company, No. 121 North Broadway, and locked up in the City Jail under a charge of larceny.

Straube, who is booked under a felony charge, according to the police blotter, is alleged to have stolen about $100 worth of printers' supplies from the American Type Founders' Company.

For some reason, the detectives assigned to the case, Murray and McCann, were exceptionally secretive after booking their man and declined to say what the felony charge amounted to.

After Straube had been shown into a cell, both of the detectives seemed to disappear from the face of the earth—at least from that part of the earth occupied by newspaper reporters.

Nevertheless, the thefts from the company are understood to have been carried on in an exceptionally bold manner, a wagon being used at one time to cart the stuff away.

WOMAN'S KICK FOILS BRUTE.

WELL-PLANTED TOE DODGES UP INTRUDER.

SCREAMS AROUSE NEIGHBORS, VILLAIN ESCAPES.

GIVES DESCRIPTION OF MAN WHO SEIZED HER.

Mrs. E. J. Callahan of No. 3259 East Fourth street, a handsome young woman, gave her Los Angeles sisters an object lesson in self-protection last night. With a vigorous and well-directed kick, she drove away from her man who had entered her home with the foulst of intentions, apparently. The kick was supplemented with a series of piercing screams and the intruder, groaning with pain, made a hasty exit.

Her husband, a traveling man, left the city yesterday for a short trip that would take him away for several days. Last night Mrs. Callahan went out for a walk and dropped in at the home of a friend for a little chat. Returning she reached home about 9:30 o'clock.

She made her way to the back door of the house and saw a woman friend near door, saying she was going to bed, who had been preparing for the night. The answer was in the affirmative, whereupon Mrs. Callahan entered the house alone.

She had scarcely made a few steps in her home before she heard some tip-toeing behind her. As she wheeled around she beheld a man, about 32 or 35 years of age, who had been preparing for the night. The answer was in the affirmative, whereupon Mrs. Callahan entered the house alone.

Mrs. Callahan is made of the stuff that will fight; instead of fainting, struggling fiercely she managed to kick off a little from her assailant and then, with a yell, she screamed. She was about to do so, she had kicked him with all her might. The toe of the little shoe landed squarely at the base of the fellow's abdomen. He released his grip and dropped in a swoon.

She was quick to take advantage of her opportunity. Scream after scream, shrill and clear, rang out and startled the neighborhood. People from the vicinity came to the rescue of the men carrying weapons, and the villain beat a precipitate retreat.

The light had been turned on by Mrs. Callahan as she stepped into her back door, and she had a good view of the man. She says he is about 6 feet 9 or 10 inches in height, with a smooth face and blue eyes. He was wearing white shirt and dark colored trousers, with a dark hat punched into four dents.

This description was at first thought to be that of the famous "Boyle Heights" boy, but Boyle Heights recently, and a number of police officers were sent out to look for him, but at a late hour last night they had not located him. It is believed, however, that the details of the assault, leads the officers to believe that this was not the same man who outraged so many women here.

It is believed that he had followed Mrs. Callahan on the street and he thought his game safe when he heard her call to the neighbor that she was alone.

MILLIONAIRE POST CARD FRIEND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Edward H. R. Galt, millionaire and jovial son of the richest woman in America, Hetty Green, relieved the tedium of the trip from New York City to Texas by stopping over in St. Louis yesterday and personally selecting 15,000 different kinds of picture post cards. The millionaire Texan is not going to open up a picture post card shop, nor will the amusement be confined to any ordinary kind of card, it is decided. The whole bunch is intended as a home-coming surprise for the financier's personal friends and boon companions down in Texas—railroad superintendents, bank presidents, ranch men, cattle owners, brother Elks, and such. Each and everyone of the 15,000 post cards is different. There are no duplicates of any kind. Every piece of picture post card ever made is covered. SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch] On account of the large number of ballots cast in the competition of the election of officers of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was not effected until late this afternoon.

Officers elected today are: Grand Assistant Matron, Miss Nelle A. Darlington; State Adjunct Grand Treasurer, Mrs. Josephine Fenton; Los Angeles Grand Secretary, Mrs. Kate J. Williams, San Francisco. The latter's election was unanimous. This is the twenty-ninth year she has had the office.

According to the original programme the session should have ended this afternoon, but on account of the press of business, it was prolonged till tonight. The new delegates will remain tomorrow, when an excursion to Tia Juana is planned.

Many Eastern Star visitors not regular delegates were long guests at a local bath-house, where they indulged in swimming races. During their stay here the visitors were entertained in lavish style. The local committee raised a fund of $300 for this purpose. The visitors are mostly from San Francisco, a convention city, particularly so for the reason that the U. S. Grant hotel is amply capable of only housing them but provides them with a meeting place and all conveniences necessary for convention purposes without leaving the building.

The time of the Grand Lodge was taken up with the installation of the new officers, which was not concluded until a late hour, notwithstanding postponement of all other business until tomorrow morning. At that time the selection of a place for next year's meeting will be made.

Milwaukee's Socialist Mayor Tells Young Americans Their Country's Laws Are Poor Pattern.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch] "Boys I believe you are right. The United States is not the best government in the world," said Mayor Seidel, Milwaukee's Socialist executive at the inaugural exercises of the Boys of the Republic, Y. M. C. A.

He did not give her time for reflection, but at one bound, caught her by the throat, trying to force her backward, as he growled threats of murder if she made a sound.

Mrs. Callahan is made of the stuff that will fight; instead of fainting, struggling fiercely she managed to kick off a little from her assailant and then, with a yell, she screamed. She was about to do so, she had kicked him with all her might. The toe of the little shoe landed squarely at the base of the fellow's abdomen. He released his grip and dropped in a swoon.

She was quick to take advantage of her opportunity. Scream after scream, shrill and clear, rang out and startled the neighborhood. People from the vicinity came to the rescue of the men carrying weapons, and the villain beat a precipitate retreat.

The light had been turned on by Mrs. Callahan as she stepped into her back door, and she had a good view of the man. She says he is about 6 feet 9 or 10 inches in height, with a smooth face and blue eyes. He was wearing white shirt and dark colored trousers, with a dark hat punched into four dents.

This description was at first thought to be that of the famous "Boyle Heights" boy, but Boyle Heights recently, and a number of police officers were sent out to look for him, but at a late hour last night they had not located him. It is believed, however, that the details of the assault, leads the officers to believe that this was not the same man who outraged so many women here.

It is believed that he had followed Mrs. Callahan on the street and he thought his game safe when he heard her call to the neighbor that she was alone.

She had scarcely made a few steps in her home before she heard some tip-toeing behind her. As she wheeled around she beheld a man, about 32 or 35 years of age, who had been preparing for the night. The answer was in the affirmative, whereupon Mrs. Callahan entered the house alone.

FIVE FAST DOUBLE PLAYS ADD TO THE INTEREST.

VERNON: "I'm not practical enough for Vernon for while the locals rapped him for seven straight only two of these were together and they made the only run the locals secured. Kennedy opened the second inning with a single to center that sounded over Carlisle's head for a double. He then ran home on a double when Halligan singled to center. The Angels got even to third base in the first, fourth and sixth innings and Kennedy would have scored in the fourth but he was thrown out at the plate by Coy. Three double plays stopped the scoring.

The one double play in the fifth inning on the Vernons caused some discussion among certain fans because they thought Vernon should have been credited with it. In their opinion, the ball was batted and Coy hit a grounder through Delmas. One out and men on first and second.

Delmas then had to fall back to Hospe and then in the effort to catch Coy between first and second, it was thrown to Dillon, Dillon, Delmas, Crighton and Delmas, the latter touching the ball to the ground. Halligan then threw the ball to Halligan at third base and when Halligan touched third base Umpire McGroarty called Hospe out. Both Hospe and Roy Brashear had scored while Coy was being run down but as Hospe was the third out at third base naturally neither he nor Roy Brashear scored. Mrs. Turner had recently come from Payson, Col., where her husband and three children reside. The body was turned over to Undertaker Paul. The remains probably will be sent to her former home at Payson for interment.

Removal Sale Pianos and Player Pianos

KURTZMANN

The best Piano of its Class

The Kurtzmann piano is a remarkable place among pianos as no other instrument can. It has genuine musical values and is a pleasure to play. It can be purchased at very moderate prices. Thousands of Kurtzmanns are used in schools and conservatories as well as in homes. The piano occupies elaborate offices in the H. W. Hellman Building. He secured his certificates on June 15 and on June 19 the United States District Attorney stepped in and arrested the seven defendants.

The fraud was first exposed by the press and publicity given to the plan of the association is said to have saved many innocent persons from losing their money. The plan was to sell orange groves on contract, the association planting and caring for the trees. We have seen it take his practice customers out into the famous groves of Bakersfield to show them what he was selling and on one occasion was driven out of a grove by the state attorney while taking a party there.

The company had a show of title to some land in that vicinity, which had been taken from the Fontana Development Company by the payment of $5000 in borrowed money.

Dent filed a civil suit against the company immediately after fraud was exposed, began an endeavor to recover the money he had lost for his stock. Other victims of the fraud regarded the case as hopeless and he has practically alone in his fight. Witnesses have been summoned to take the stand in the court on November 1, some instances did not know that they had purchased orange groves from the association until served with the subpoena.

As a matter of fact they never paid a cent on these contracts but their names were used by directors or stockholders in the association in their various efforts to beat the association and each other.

At one time the association was selling groves at $500 for a five-acre tract. They found this was too low to insure the confidence of buyers, and then doubled the price. But before the price doubled each of the directors took 10% contracts in the names of various friends or acquaintances at the old price. This was done to keep the association around in various ways. Some of them representing not a single dollar of investment were hypothesized and were found in the hands of the stockholders.

In its prosecution the government spent nearly $10,000 to bring witnesses from various parts of the country. The case then had to be postponed, the witnesses scattered and the prosecution difficult. The indictments against all of the others, excepting Watkins the prime-mover, were finally dismissed.

A $500 piano was stolen Friday morning from the store of J. P. Baker, 49 South Spring Street. The robbers forced an entrance through a rear window. The job is believed to be the work of boys.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

OIL MEN ARE FEELING GOOD.

DRAW INFERENCE FROM TRIP OF SECRETARY PIERCE.

It is believed that each case will be taken up separately and that the last withdrawal order, made in July, is the only one that will be considered.

Word comes from the northern oil fields, through the medium of an Associated Press dispatch from Bakersfield, that the oil men operating in good faith on unpatented lands have little to fear from the Government. While Assistant Secretary of the Interior Pierce did not officially comment himself, he referred to the oil men who accompanied him on his trip through the Kern County fields, the inference drawn was that each case will be handled separately, and that the last withdrawal order, made last July, will be the only one considered.

However, where it is apparent that an individual or corporation has engaged in a land-grabbing business, there may be a different story to tell. At least that is the inference gathered by the men in the party.

Mr. Pierce, however, spent Thursday night at the camp of the United Oil Company, and yesterday left in automobiles for Coalinga, via Devil's Den and the coast, to inspect the properties aside from Secretary Pierce were: O. W. Helm, chief of the local field division of the Land Office; Charles T. Burris and J. C. Payne. Every point of interest in the Midway, Sunset and other districts was visited.

Dainty Beauty Hint: The teeth should have most scrupulous care, not only in the interest of beauty but for health. Buy the best of tooth-brushes; it is poor economy to buy any other and loose or uneven bristles are apt to irritate the gums. Brush the teeth carefully after all meals, after rising and before retiring. There are many sanitary washes for the mouth and teeth; but it is best to decide upon one recommended by a reliable dentist. Go at least each six months and have the teeth examined for any possible decay and for the beginning of that dread disease pyorrhea. Remember the loss of one tooth always means the loss of two.

Never tell me that the average man does not heed the fashions. Why even the butcher knows about the craze for hand made robes? The shining glamor of lace and lustrous satin was shroumed with myriads of hand-made roses-of-sue with cranberry centers!

A Glass of Jewels:

One of the new theatres on Broadway might well be called "The House of a Thousand Jewels." The entire front of the building flashes with magically moving and many colored lights. Lighted windows become almost intoxicating as you look upon them. Pillars of light, intertwined with ribbons of other light, stand in front of the entrance, while an iron staircase of shifting diamonds outlines the name of the house, written and re-written by the lightning's pencil. If the performances within doors were as brilliant as the decorations on the facade, there will be no snail there.

The Lure of the Street:

I met a friend on Broadway who, when last I saw her had just moved into a newly constructed apartment house. "Why?" I replied. "I thought you were still in your home?" "Yes, I was," she said. "But I have rented it and moved back down town." Then, driving nearer, she said confidently, "I have a date with a man who seduces the girls in the dark. I found that I was so used to the lights of down town that I felt as though I were blind, out in the quiet darkness. I felt as though I were deaf too—it was so deathly quiet."

I pondered long after leaving her, and thought that the lure and glare of the down-town was one of its hardships. I wonder just how many of our hardships we would miss if they were removed.

A New Barrette:

The business girl was wearing one of the very prettiest barrettes I have ever seen. It was shaped like an irregular spider-web, and was amber color, like hair. It was beautified with little little jewels caught in it here and there, sparkling like dew-drops. I was glad to know that she did not own the only one in town, for I wanted to get one for a birthday gift for another blonde girl.

"Don't Merely Wear Gloves."

But whenever you buy bargains in gloves. There is a "dollar sale" that you cannot afford to miss; if I am any judge of quality, then you are early and avoid—being told that there are only small sizes left.

Too Narrow:

There is no denying that the narrow skirt is here and there, and in fact everywhere. Even if it is not bobbed, but left at large, that large is pretty small. And I believe the slender silks are better than those attended. I saw a girl on Broadway, who was really pitiful, with her wisp of a body, twisted tightly into a thin tube of silk, and almost white, was actually wobbed under its weight.

She looked so undressed and under-clad that had the weather been colder I should have wanted to invoke the attorney of the children's court, the garment, even though the fabric of her garment, were Lyons velvet.

To Eat:

Now, Ag Gratin is a satisfying dish, and I hold that eggs at any price than they have ever reached, are as inexpensive as meat since they answer every purpose of the food. Take them, as the saying goes, in a large croissant, half a cupful of finely minced ham or tongue, or even dried beef, one level spoonful of made mustard, one round of cheese, a little horseradish or mirepoix. Mix together these ham, cheese and season with salt and pepper. Put about four tablespoomfuls of it over side. Mix the remainder with the mustard and cheese, and add to the stock to form a smooth paste. Butter a fireproof dish and line thick with the prepared paste, then make six little nests in the dish, and fill each nest. Break the egg carefully into the last love, sprinkle the egg with some of the dry mixture, put a few tiny bits of butter on top, and cover with a pocket of cloth if you like the flavor, and bake in a quick oven from four to five minutes or until the eggs are set. Serve at once.

Fancy Work:

One of the Broadway stores which has a very large department of needle-work and a corps of trained needle workers to teach the art of making up what is known as "fancy work" there, is showing handsome examples of Hardanger work. The articles are of the natural canvas color, combined with lace and embroidery cord is used for the intricate tracery.

A pillow noticed was embroidered in a flight of butterflies with jeweled wings, giving a charming effect.

A circular mat, in a heavy pattern of orchids in white silk, was done in Mount Melik in a heavy pattern of orchids in white silk.

The new gauze sets, consisting of sheet, pillow cases and towels all embroidered to match, form handsome bridal gifts.

A simple but most striking pattern for a dress was the heavy battenbury stitch and French knots, each the simplest form of needle work. The brier stitch of white silk was worked in a diamond pattern, and interwoven with French knots in turquoise, with a heavy dot in the same color used most effectively.

Bird nail slippers of soft wool, done in a pattern to represent flowers with a border of Baby-blue were very pretty.

A pillow worked in ribbon embroidery on heavy basket cloth, was very striking. Design being in bar roses with long braid stems and leaves.

Christmas Dolls:

It seems early for the Christmas dolls, but they are so pretty that I do not wonder why the merchants couldn't wait to display them.

Fashions in dolls change of course, but not quite so rapidly as do fashions in clothes. It was a comfort to note

Hanna of Ocean Park, who skillfully defended a woman under an ordinance law drew up. As legal adviser for Ocean Park he drafted an ordinance which provides punishment for the sale or delivery of liquor in the city by any person not holding a city license. The ordinance also makes it a offense so well that it adopted it verbatim. When H. C. Burmister of Ocean Park was placed under arrest charged with violating the Santa Monica ordinance, he turned to Frank H. Haddock to defend him. The case was tried before a jury, with the result that Burmister was promptly acquitted. The question now is, what success Hanna could have with his defense in his own city for a violation of the same ordinance.

Rev. Patrick Hawe of the St. Monica Catholic Church, has returned from a trip to Europe and the Orient. His health greatly improved during his vacation.

George W. Sessions, for twenty years a Justice of the Peace at Prescott, Ariz., was married here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Dunn, of No. 314 Palm Avenue, was struck and severely injured when a trolley car ran into him at the intersection of Main Street and Palm Avenue this morning while on her way to the Lincoln Park School. Dr. Howland and Dr. Shewell attended her, stated that she sustained a fracture of the skull, a fractured right ankle and cuts and bruises. Motorman John Barrett stated that the child was glassed when he attempted to stop the car until it was almost on her, as she attempted to step off but could not get out of the way. Her son, John, who was with the author and publisher of medical works of recognized authority, Dr. Wiley B. Allen, and his wife, Dr. Wiley B. Allen, was with her when she was injured.

NAME FOR CALIFORNIA'S STATELY HALL OF FAME.*III—JOHN AUGUSTUS SUTTER

Born March 1, 1803 Died June 17, 1880.

BY ROCKWELL, PH.D.

H. BUNY, PH.D.

In the early history of California there was always a unique place. His influence and extraordinary combination of qualities made it difficult to understand how the American people could have been affected.

John Augustus Sutter, whose name is now a household word in California, was one of such importance in the days and years of California's infancy. Yet it is strange that this man, who was a pioneer in the days of unpopulated California, has not been given a place in the Hall of Fame.
